Bethel & Monroe Townships Collaborate to Serve Philanthropy

The year 2000 was great for the Tipp City Area Community Foundations. One of the first things that was done was the expansion of Bethel Township into our service area. The many joint projects between Tipp and Bethel, such as the Area United Fund, the same post office and others, made it an easy call, Joan C. Creech and Jerard Weikert have been selected as representatives to serve the broadened territory.

As we worked through 2000, it soon became clear that in 2001 the Foundation would be granting its one- millionth dollar. We believe this to be a significant accomplishment for a community our size. It was decided that we would then celebrate 2001 as our Jubilee Year. Planning has been underway for some time, and, as the year unfolds, the Trustees continue to be busy. We welcome you to work with us and make it a true Jubilee Year.

"...But when she got there, The cupboard was bare...

It's not fiction that some people in our community open their pantries only to find no nutritional food. Even in the healthiest of economies and the most prosperous of neighborhoods, pockets of need still exist. Lucky for Tipp City there is an organization called Needy Basket helping to restock those empty shelves. Last year 45 volunteers performed over 800 hours of service filling these emergency food gaps. Food requests come in at a rate of 10-12 per month. Tipp City Area Community Foundations is proud to support the good work of this organization.

In pursuit of our mission — to assemble the moneys of our community so as to promote and support the charitable, cultural, social, educational and recreational programs, agencies and institutions in our community we are pleased to announce that the Foundation has added three new funds for a combined total of twelve. (See pages 7-8 for the full list of all funds.)

Members of the Foundation have been meeting with school officials from both Tipp City and Bethel Township along with city and township representatives to explain our mission and to facilitate the handling of future grants. We see ourselves as partners with these representatives.

The Tipp City Area Community Foundations' trustees are working for you. As we look forward to celebrating the JUBILEE YEAR and our one-millionth dollar, please come on-board and help us continue to grow.

Wollenhaupt Memorial Serves Urban Landscape

Santa came to the Foundation in 2000. When it received two anonymous checks totaling $5,500 just before Christmas. These very generous gifts were made in memory of Ed and Lorraine Wollenhaupt, longtime residents of Tipp City. Though some donations are given to the Foundation for general use, these donations have been earmarked for the Lucille L. Milner Fund, which supports the urban landscape of Tipp City by purchasing and planting trees on public lands.

Lorraine Suerdieck Wollenhaupt is prominent in the memories of many area residents because of her involvement with grass roots projects, such as the high-school band's parent's organization and the Mum Festival. When the Tippecanoe High School students attended the first summer band camp, it was Mrs. Wollenhaupt who prepared all of the meals at the Kiser Lake location. In the early years of the Mum Festival, she and her husband, Ed, turned their yard on South Sixth Street into a specimen garden of the celebrated flowers and even won first prize in the contest for the most beautiful yard.

It seemed that anywhere a volunteer was needed, she would jump in to help. Both she and Ed were active members of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, where she served as a leader of the Rosary Altar Society and he served as treasurer of the Knights of Columbus for over 25 years.

When there was work to be done Ed Wollenhaupt jumped in, too. In the 1960s he served on City Council.

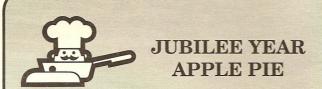

As a band parent, he was in charge of overseeing the high-school football concession stand while the children, Linda, Frank and Kay, played in the band.

Ed, an employee of Chrysler Corporation for 28 years, liked to help others in the community when help was needed, including various home repair projects. As a Boy Scout leader, he developed character in the community's youth.

After a lifetime in Tipp City, the Wollenhaupts left it a neigh"...thanks to people like the Wollehnaupts, who gave their lifetimes looking out for their neighbors and for taking the time to care, our town grew into a community."

borhood that we can all agree is a wonderful place to live. Was it always that way? Maybe not. But thanks to people like the Wollenhaupts, who gave their lifetimes looking out for their neighbors and for taking the time to care, our town grew into a community. We thank them.

At the core of the Tipp City Area Community Foundations is the dedication and commitment of its volunteers, bringing their integrity, ability and knowledge of the community's charitable needs. They provide the citizen involvement that characterizes a true community foundation.

A broad spectrum of community residents volunteers time to the Trustees. Following are some of the people who play this special role in the Foundation and, we believe, bring out the best in us.

This report to the Community made possible with help from . . .

You may be wondering where the Foundation gets its money for the work it does in the community. Fair question. Here's the answer. Since 1943, donors just like you have created funds that distribute income annually. The distributions are made in the form of grants. (See page 3-5 for this year's grant awards.) By leaving the principal intact, the original donation is available to earn interest year after year to generate grants for generations to come. Funds set up in this form are called endowments, and, as of December 31, 2000, the Tipp City Area Community Foundations has $2,169,029 set aside in this manner.

Most donors who establish an endowment fund make a commitment to bring the fund to at least $25,000 in assets, which can be accomplished over time. Endowment funds can serve a wide variety of charitable causes - civic, cultural, educational, environmental, health, religious and social service-related. They can assist charities in the Bethel and Monroe Township communities and beyond. Listed below are the needs currently being met through endowments.

Whatever cause a donor chooses to support with the creation of an endowment, the Foundation and the Board of Trustees ensure that the donor's wishes are fulfilled. This is made possible through the volunteer work of the Distribution Committee of the Foundation, which actually selects the grants to be awarded.

The endowment funds that follow represent the growing history of the Tipp City Area Community Foundations and exemplify our donors' commitment to society and to community philanthropy. Over the decades, these funds have provided vital charitable dollars for virtually every area of charitable effort within our community. They will continue to give, in our donors' names, for generations to Individual gifts are welcome additions to these endowment funds. By making a contribution to an existing fund, a donor's gift will join others' for maximum charitable benefit. See how to do this on the last page of this report.

TREES

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the sweet earth's flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Giving Tomorrow

The greater Tipp City community is a very caring place to live. Many people volunteer regularly and give financially to the nonprofit groups of their choice.
When they're gone, their support is sorely missed.
By leaving a legacy through a gift in your will, you can continue to help organizations that are making an important difference in Tipp City and the surrounding areas.

WHAT CAN THE TIPP CITY AREA COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS DO WITH JUST $978.75?

JUST LOOK!

One day last March, 200 eighth-grade students from L.T. Ball Middle School rode buses to Dayton to see Freedom Train at the Victoria Theatre, thanks to a grant from the Tipp City Area Community Foundations. During the play the students' imaginations rode the Underground Railroad with Harriet Tubman and were introduced to the harsh life of slavery. By the end of the morning 200 students had left with 200 unique experiences...all for a mere $978.75. It was just one small grant but, oh, what an impact. Let's see what some of the kids had to say....

DEAR TIPP CITY AREA COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS.

...Harriet Tubman helped slaves run away to freedom in the north. The trail that she followed was called the Underground Railroad. She helped her whole family and over 300 slaves get to freedom... -Simon * Thank you so much for giving us that eighth-grade trip. -Ashley * As students get older, we have less and less field trips...but as we get older we appreciate them a whole lot more. -Andrew * This play changed the way I look at blacks. -Nicholas * It taught me a lot and now my respect is greater for actors who get up and put on a show every night. -Christopher * I especially liked the amount of truth put in about the events of Harriet Tubman...now not only have we studied the slave trade but now we will be able to experience it as best it can be shown. -Todd * The play connected with what we're studying in language arts class. -Jessica * It was the first time I saw live theater and it makes me want to see it again. -Danie * The people that played each character did very well...so well they made me think. -Jessica * Learning about Harriet was good because before I knew the name but not much about her. Now I know more. -Julie * The props were good and the imaginary corn looked delicious. -Galen # I especially liked the scene where Harriet helped her father escape. -Scott * I'm so glad I was able to go, thank you so much. -Adam * I liked the way the actors and actresses played their parts. They really got into their characters and expressed their feelings. -Eric * The actors and actresses used only one setting but changed it a little each time to make a different room. -Nicole ** Unexpected humor...popped up in the play at times and really caught my attention. -Angelyn * Your generosity has given students the chance to see other forms of art outside of school. -Michelle * I enjoyed the part when Harriet had a dizzy spell and all of the lights in the theater went on and off...that looked neat. -Dan * Harriet was an old lady at the beginning [of the play] and told it as a story of what she did. She had many different ways of escaping slaves and taking them through the Underground Railroad to the north. She was always successful and never lost a passenger. -Philip ** The story is almost just like the book that I read. -Kevin * This was a great way to get out of the classroom but still be learning. -Adam * It didn't have a lot of props but it was fun to use imagination. -Tina * I hope...every future eighth grader gets the opportunity to have this experience. -Heath * In my opinion, all children should go see this play or one in resemblance to it. This is a good example of non-prejudicism. In my opinion this is what all children need these days. -Haley * Learning is a lot more exciting when you can see it... -Caitlin * I had not realized how dangerous it was for a runaway slave at that time. If they were caught, they were either shot, shipped, burned or hanged. -Shayne # I learned that Harriet was called Moses. -Jessica * It reminded me of my grandpa and how he used to tell me about slaves and the Underground Railroad. -Samantha * We would have never been able to see this play if it wasn't for you. -Eric * Thanks again for allowing us to see this great play and for giving us a chance to learn new things. -Holly * I loved the scene where the very loud guard that spoke like a real hillbilly. Forgive me if I sound mean, but the way the guard spoke and acted was so funny. -Andrew * I've never known the poverty of black history. This play showed me how poorly people, the same as whites only with a different skin color, could and did get treated. It shows everyone what choices we make effect so many others. We often learn from our mistakes, and I am glad that we are all fortunate enough to see and understand and not repeat mistakes that were made in the past. -Samantha * Viewing this play makes me interested in learning more about slavery. I have a better understanding of how African-Americans were treated. -Melanie * ...thank you for letting us have the time to recognize different kinds of people. I learned how equality really works. I learned to respect people of any color... -Anthony * ...she became a conductor on the railroad and helped over 300 slaves escape to freedom, which included her family. What I got out of this play was new knowledge about Harriet I didn't know before, and about how other races and religions were treated back then. -Mac * I didn't understand how hard the journey north was...I understand much better how slaves were treated. -Sarah ★ Harriet's father was put in jail because slave hunters knew she would come and try to get him out. -Aimee * It's not every day that I get to see a good play. -Emily # I learned a lot about how the slaves were treated and how difficult it was for them to escape. I also thought that the actors did a great job demonstrating their emotions. -Stephanie * The props that they used helped me use my imagination, which I like to do. -Bryan * I loved the music that they sang. -Kirby * It had funny parts and sad parts and it also provided us with information about Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad in general. -Eric * This play helped me realize that you should (if you have the potential) help people through their problems whenever you can. -Josh * I had a wonderful time. -Eugenia * I got to see what it was like for slaves and to live back in the time of slavery and what the racial periods were like. This play will probably remain in my mind forever because of the meaning to it. -David * I really don't like plays but I do like this one...I wouldn't mind going back. -Erica * Freedom Train was a very interesting musical. The music came from the traditional African spirituals. Fascinating... -Thomas

Bowers Family Shares Happiness with Bethel Schools

In the 1940s, Cleon Studebaker met Lester Bowers while attending Bethel Local Schools. That meeting led to something special and within a few years they were married. Now fifty years later, these lifelong Miami County residents have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

"...(the fund) is a creative way to say happy anniversary and to say thank you for being extraordinary parents." -Todd Bowers| To mark the occasion, the Bowers children, Sid, Todd and Keith Bowers and Ann Bowers McKenzie, came up with a creative way to say happy anniversary and thank you for being extraordinary parents. Through the Tipp City Area Community Foundations, they established the Lester and Cleon Studebaker Bowers Scholarship Fund.

This new scholarship, awarded for the first time in 2000, goes to students graduating from Bethel High School who are interested in pursuing careers in agriculture, dietary science, education or childhood development. Award decisions are made based on a student's scholarship, personal integrity, community service and academic effort.

The Bowers' life in Miami County has been spent close to the land. Lester and Cleon own a farm and have been involved in all of the things normally associated with farm life. Lester also has worked as a cattle buyer, while Cleon has participated as a county fair judge. Throughout their lives their family, education and community have remained the center of their attention.

Says son Todd Bowers of Sayre, Pennsylvania, "They are the best folks that anyone could ever think of."

Grant Making Guidelines

The Tipp City Area Community Foundations welcomes grant requests from organizations that benefit citizens in the greater Tipp City area and that are recognized as tax-exempt under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Some donors to the Foundation have chosen to give the Distribution Committee of the Foundation discretion to decide who will receive grants from their funds. These grants are called discretionary grants.

The Distribution Committee, which is composed of a diverse group of community leaders, awards grants from these funds to worthy efforts where need is greatest. This is done through a review process involving, which awards to the full spectrum of nonprofit organizations.

Generally, the Foundation makes grants to help launch new projects not addressed by existing organizations or to support special efforts of already established nonprofit organizations. A proposal needs to represent a unique and unduplicated opportunity that will affect a substantial number of people.

The Foundation is particularly interested in projects that do one or more of the following:

- provide for more efficient use of community resources, promote coordination, cooperation and sharing among organizations and reduce duplication of services
- test or demonstrate new approaches and techniques for solving important community problems
- generate matching funds
- could not be accomplished with existing sources of support
- promote volunteer participation and citizen involvement in community affairs, or
- strengthen nonprofit agencies and institutions by: reducing operating costs, increasing public financial support and/or improving internal management.

The Foundation does not usually make grants from its discretionary funds:

- that represents the principal source of support to an organization or activity
- to support the general operating budget of organizations
- to individuals to fund scientific, medical or academic research projects
- to reduce operational deficits
- for sectarian activities of religious organizations
- for travel grants
- for annual fund-raising drives and award ceremonies, or
- to establish or add to endowment funds.
